Clay Art Center and Neptune In June are pleased to announce the Second Annual Port Chester Arts Festival, A celebration of makers, designers, doers, and dreamers who call Port Chester home.

Taking place at several locations throughout the village of Port Chester, Saturday, June 1st, 2024

Join us in Port Chester, New York for a day of creativity and inspiration for all ages at the 2nd Annual Port Chester Arts Festival. The festival celebrates the arts groups and artists that make our town a creative hub. All events will be free and open to the public, including exhibitions, open studios, workshops, performances, and pop-up installations. From longstanding spaces like The Capitol Theatre, Clay Art Center, and the Carver Center, to new additions like Neptune In June, Port Chester offers an exciting array of access to the arts as part of our culture.

Discover the talent that lies in Port Chester with events happening throughout the village from 11 am - 4 pm. Grab yourself a festival map and explore artist studios, musicians, arts organizations, galleries, and more. Visit the website to find out more about opportunities for artists, volunteers, and sponsors to get involved.

Neptune in June is an artist-run curatorial and community project based in Port Chester, NY. Its two-fold mission focuses on both supporting emerging artists who are seeking connection to the larger contemporary art dialogue, and bringing meaningful conversations to the Port Chester community that are in tune with local culture. Neptune in June curates exhibitions locally and across the U.S., and offers workshops, performances, and other public events in partnership with fellow art spaces and community service groups. Founded in 2024 by Jenn Cacciola (Co-Founder of former art space, Ice Cream Social), Neptune in June continues the community-focused project begun at ICS.
